Angels are for everyone and so is Dyslexia; which is why Gazebo Books has decided to publish two versions of Robert Warrington's charming new picture book, "The Little Dyslexic Angel". For those of the Jewish, Muslim, Zoroastrianism, Buddhist, or Hindu faith, Gazebo Books presents "The Little Dyslexic Angel – All Faith" edition. For the traditional Christian market "The Little Dyslexic Angel – Christmas Edition" which includes 14 additional pages illustrating a glorious Christmas Eve ride in Santa's sleigh that display legendary landmarks below as they circle the world together. In both versions through the guidance of heavenly spirits (and in the Christmas edition, with a little added help from Santa) the little angel perseveres in her struggle to learn how to see the "dots lines and curves," as meaning full letters that spell out lessons of inspiration.
