

HomeRead reviewsWatch PreViewsRead interviews

Title | Author | Age Groups | Recent | Coming soon | Pending

The Little Dyslexic Angel

Robert Warrington

Gazebo Books (2011)

ISBN 9780984474837

Reviewed by Zoey Crane (age 7) and Nana for Reader Views (3/12)

When a new angel comes on board in “The Little Dyslexic Angel” by Robert Warrington, she learns that she has to work on the list God gave her so she can get her wings. However, she has trouble reading what God wrote - the words are jumbled. How does she learn to read and get her wings?

Zoey:

I loved this story. My mom teaches dyslexic kids and they sometimes turn their letters around. I used to do that when I was first learning to read and write. But now I am better. This beautiful angel has to first learn what God is asking her to do and she doesn't think she can do it. It hurts her feelings. The other angels all try to help her and want her to get her wings. They tell her what she should do and she tries, but it is hard and she cries. Finally, with the help of Santa she gets her letters right and can read what God wanted her to do to get her wings. Everyone is very excited. I still change some letters around like “d” and “b” but I am getting better because a teacher helped me.

Nana:

Zoey has grown up with being around children who have special learning needs as her mom is a Special Education Teacher. She doesn't see this as a problem, as she tries to help the kids in her mom's class. “The Little Dyslexic Angel” by Robert Warrington was good for her to learn about dyslexia. She is more in tune to others in

Quick Links

Sign up for email updates
Submit a book for review
Visit the blog
Become a reviewer

Social Media

We will tweet you so you can discover what new book reviews have been posted to our daily blog.

Join us on Twitter

PreViews

We provide quality video trailers of books to communicate the ambiance of the publication and catch the attention of the potential reader.

Previews

Literary Awards

The annual literary awards honor writers who self-publish or have their books published by a small press or independent book publisher. Awards are given for children's, teen's, and young her class and what she is doing.

Make comment on weblog

FTC Disclosure

adult books.
Enter Literary Awards

Review the Book

Review The Book is a place where authors and book reviewers meet. The site offers 5 reviews of your book posted on at least 10 different sites.

Review the Book

Reader Views

Reader Views is the parent site of Reader Views Kids. Along with our adult book reviews we offer affordable publicity and editing services to meet the needs of our authors in the growing book publishing industry.

Service for authors
Book reviews
Express book reviews

Inside Scoop Live

Inside Scoop Live is a global internet-based broadcast specializing in interviewing published authors about their current books and areas of expertise. Available 24/7.

Inside Scoop Live

Associates

We recommend you visit with our associates

to see what they can offer you. Our associates are supportive of the publishing industry and offer packages to meet your needs.

Reader Views

Review The Book

Blogging Authors

LR Communication Design

Book Marketing Connections

Disclosure in Accordance with FTC Guidelines 16 CFR Part 255
Copyright © 2005 - 2012 Reader Views Kids
Reader Views Kids website design by LR Communication Design